Visitors Forfeit Game In Ninth

(By R. E. D.)

The locals kept their home record intact here Wednesday in a game featured by hard hitting on both sides. The cause for the fireworks was Bobby's theft of home with the tying run in the ninth. Woodstock protested and refused to continue. The winning run was on with White and Alger, our two sluggers, coming up so perhaps it is just as well for our argumentative opponents that they quit when they did. "Quit" is a horrid word but it is what applies to the Bryant Pond aggregation.

The game was played under difficulties. It had rained all the afternoon and it sprinkled some during the contest. This fact accounts for the wildness of both pitchers—or at least it should. Gill passed 5 men and Stowell did him one better. Both pitchers hit a man. Fine catching held the passed balls and wild pitches to one each.

With one out Jack passed two men in the first. The next batter knocked a triple to score two. In our half Bob and Maynard were passed and they counted on Alger's hard smash which was thrown into the dirt at first.

The visitors added one to their count in the third on two hits. We opened the count in the fourth with hits by Alger and Gill.

In the fifth Woodstock manufactured two runs out of the same number of hits, together with an error by the Bethel catcher. Not to be outdone, the Bethelers scored a couple to knot the count in their half. Tise was safe on an error. Bob connected. Wober bunted. Sawyer walked. White advanced the men and Jim Alger poled out his second safety to bring it all even.

Bryant Pond got three on in the next count but Jack bore down and averted any damage. The seventh and eighth went by without scores although both teams had men on the bases.

In the ninth Bryant Pond started the old merry-go-round. They scored three runs before a double play cut their wild careers short.

With the week end of the batting order up it looked bad for the Bethelers. Gill walked. Smiley was safe on an error. Hank Tise connected for a nice two-bagger to send one run across. Then Bobby sent out another hit to score Smiley. Tise was thrown out trying to score from second. Bobby stole second and was advanced to third by Weber.

With the count of three and two on Sawyer, the next batter, Bobby set all with all power and beat the throw to the plate to tie up the old ball game for the fourth and last time. And that was all the baseball for the afternoon.

The rest of the daylight was used in arguments pro and con. Bryant Pond evidently decided they were heard anyway so they turned a disloyal shoulder on the wily coaching Bethel rooters, picked up their bats and went home to get a new one.

Jack pitched a good game, and as he was by a continually wet ball. He allowed twelve hits but three of these were clearly cases of the judgement on the part of the fielders. And we might add that the game of whatever you wish to call it, base running will make Bethel feel that they were caught on the bases in some way. That is about seven too many.

A BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

For some time, it is alleged one of our prominent citizens has paid more or less attention to a charming lady of this town; it has even been stated that he said he was greatly attached to her.

He now claims that he was not serious in his attentions, but however that may be, the lady became attached to him, and as he now seems to have lost interest in the matter, she has attached his property, which is a form of attachment he does not appreciate.

The result is he finds himself defendant in a breach of promise suit, and his questionable attitude toward the lady will be given an airing in court in the near future.

The parties involved are so prominent that it is feared no ordinary court room would hold the vast crowd desired of hearing the case. For this reason it will be held in Orlan Hall, Tuesday evening, July 22, under the auspices of the Men's Club of the Congregational Church, for whose benefit the proceeds have been donated.

The committee having the matter in charge have engaged the Newton Entertainment Bureau of Worcester to conduct the affair, and there is sure to be fun without limit.

See next week's paper for further particulars.

BETHEL BOY IN TRAINING CAMP

Wilbert M. Bartlett of Chapman St., Bethel, Maine, arrived at Fort McKinley Saturday and was enrolled in the Citizens' Military Training Camp that is being held at this army post for 30 days from July 5 to August 3. He has been assigned to Company C, which is under command of Capt. Rudolph K. Schlenker. He has been issued his set of uniforms, other clothing and equipment.

Fort McKinley is situated on Great Diamond Island in Casco Bay, four miles from Portland. It is constantly swept by ocean breezes, and is cool both day and night. The post occupies one-half of the island, and on the other end are situated many summer cottages for which the occupants who hire pay from $75.00 to $150.00 a month rent.

Candidate Bartlett is obtaining all of these advantages, including his food, clothing and training, at the expense of the United States Government.

SAVE-A-LIFE CAMPAIGN

It was announced Tuesday by Edgar C. Smith, Secretary of the State of Maine at the State House that Maine is now working out plans to take part in the New England Save-A-Life Campaign which will be held during the month of August. Mr. Smith stated that while the final details had not as yet been worked out one of the big features will be the inspection of all motor vehicles located in the State of Maine. He stated that some three or four hundred official inspection stations would be appointed throughout the State. This will be the big work of the department. The educational work will be carried on by various organizations located in the State of Maine.

Final details will be made known to the public some time during the middle of July.

Boy Really Father of Man, Says This Writer

Boys are really fathers of their dad if the latter are conscientious parents, according to Frederic Van de Water, in Woman's Home Companion.

Fathers begin, he explains, by assuming a saintly attitude to impress the youth by example, but they soon find that the youngsters are catching them in the very things they preach against.

"As months march past I find myself dissembling less," says the writer. "Besides expurgating my speech and standing when women enter, I have acquired other virtues. I fold my napkin after each meal. I am polite over the telephone. I hang up my overcoat and I wipe out the tub after my bath. My son does few of these things without prompting, but, anyway, he will not be able to say that he observed his father in a similar offense."

"By the time he is twenty he will be pretty much like other men of his age. I have no illusions in that direction. But I am certain of one thing: By the time he is twenty I shall be a well-bred, well-groomed, tolerant, diligent man and I shall have him to thank for it."

World Always Set to Give Welcome to Joke

In these days of modern rapid transportation nothing travels faster and farther than a new joke. Its appearance is as welcome as the birth of an heir in an old-fashioned kingdom, and it is started on a dizzy circle of motion that sweeps the whole country in concentric rings and then flies off at a tangent to the farthest confines of the jest to the Barbary states and London.

The new joke, perhaps, comes out modestly and timidly in a newspaper or magazine. It is quickly seized and reproduced by a thousand more. It next appears in radio programs; it is sandwiched in the "talkies"; it passes on to the vaudeville stage, and after it is supposed to have jumped the ocean it finds its old friends by turning up in the daily comic strips. Of course, it never gets away from the after-dinner speakers. There is nothing so much in demand as bright new jokes—the common property of all—and there is never overproduction. It is a real benefactor of humanity who contributes to the world a good joke. —Logansport Pharos Tribune.

Rich Richard
After all these years it is revealed that Ben Franklin—who said it was hard for an empty sack to stand on end, and a stitch in time saves nine, and "early to bed and early to rise" makes a man healthy and wealthy and wise," did not abide by his own recommendations. The sty pen by no means invariably turned in at 10 o'clock and out at 4. He liked to sit up with the boys—and girls—as well as any one, making merry far into the night. He did follow the "Poor Richard" precepts in youth, however—and they worked. Early to bed and early to rise made him healthy and wealthy then, and then wise enough to stay up and see the fireworks afterward—Exchange.

Has Been Postponed

The daughter of the house arrived home one night looking very sad.

"Whatever's the matter?" asked her mother.

"Oh, I thought John loved me," the girl explained, "but now I know he's not going to propose—at least not for some time."

"Why, how do you know?" asked her mother.

"Because he sent me a big box of stationery with my initials monogrammed on it—and there's enough to last me for six months."

Daughter Taken for Debs

One of the scandals of Lohola is the fact that if a man gets into debt his creditor can take away his daughter in payment. Many girls thus taken are more children. They become the man's slaves until they are marriageable, when they join his wives. From babyhood almost they learn to regard him as their future lord. Their life is indescribable. South Africa, together with 55 other nations, agreed to abolish slavery, but the "debt children" seem to be overlooked, for the custom prevails.

First British Battleship

The British battleship, called Great Harry, is said to be the first ship which, strictly speaking, belonged to the royal navy. It was built in 1488 and had three masts and as late as the year 1545 was the only ship of that build in the English fleet. It is stated that she was accidentally burned at Woolwich in 1553. She was built during the reign of Henry VII and was probably called the Great Harry for his nickname, which was Harry.

Her Part

A mother returned from shopping one day and was met by her small daughter.

"Well, what's my little Sheila been doing today?" she asked.

"I've been playing Cinderella," said Sheila.

"And you've been Cinderella, I suppose," said Sheila's mother.

"I guess not," said Sheila decidedly.

"I've got lots of clothes; I was the two sisters."—Springfield Union.

BETHEL 6, ROXBURY 1, IN THIRD WIN OF WEEK

Bartlett Allows Three Hits in Second Win in Four Days

(by R. E. D.)
The local team made it a perfect week Saturday by defeating Roxbury 6 to 1. It was their third win of the week and the fourth home victory. At home, thus far this season, Bethel has kept a clean slate.

Rodney was again doing the slugging. He allowed three hits, one of them a fluky grounder, through Weber. The only Roxbury run was scored in the fifth when the Bethel defense blew wide open for a time. With one out, A. Touchette hit one over second that Goddard almost reached. The next man hit to Goddard and he missed it. Weber made it two out on a ground ball to him. Alger next contributed a misplay to allow the run to score. White made a nice backup play but it was in vain. Scotty missed an easy foul tip to give another man a life but Bob stopped the giveaway with a nice stop and throw to Weber. After making only one error in two games the locals got all the bad baseball out of their system in this hectic canto.

We scored three in the first to put the game on ice. After Bob had fanned Weber singled and stole second. Robertson walked. White came through with a screaming double to deep left to score two. Alger sent Maynard to third where he scored when Eldredge got a life on an error by the visiting shortstop.

Two more counters were added in the fourth. Alger hit. You advanced him. Gill connected safely. Smiley walked. Bartlett sent two across with a nice double. With two more runs on the bases the next two batters could not come through with a bingle.

Our last tally came in the fifth. Scotty started things with a safety. White fanned. Alger came through with a two-base wallop to send his teammate across. Gill also got a hit in this frame but Eldredge and Smiley failed to produce the necessary punch for further scores.

After the fifth the game settled down into a pitchers' battle. The goose eggs were hung up on the scoreboard with monotonous regularity. Although we had three men on bases in the eighth they went the way many of the local basemen have—caught in forced plays or asleep at the switch.

Bartlett struck out ten men but did not seem to be overworking. The last out of the game would be a good ad for Murdock. Rodney certainly was non-reliant, the way he speared that last drive that was going like nobody's business.

Except for the one bad inning the local defense was functioning in a first class manner. The offense was led by White, Alger, Bartlett, and Gill. The first three each poked out a double and a single while Gill connected for two one-base knockers.

The whole team batted for well over "three hundred," that ideal mark which is the aim of all good baseball players. The only fault to find in the team, if one is looking for faults, is the apparently extra free manner with which some of the players run bases. It is absolutely unnecessary the way some of them manage to get caught.

BETHEL NOSES LOVELL 2 to 1 in HOLIDAY THRILLER

Gill Again Has Better of Hallowell in Pitching Duel

(by R. E. D.)
Before a record crowd gathered to celebrate the glorious Fourth the local aggregation gave a brilliant exhibition of baseball that overcame tough breaks and poor umpiring to finally emerge the victor in the tenth canto.

For the second time in as many weeks the fans were given the opportunity of seeing two evenly matched teams fight it out in extra innings. Once again the Bethel fighting spirit would not say die and victory came after a bitter struggle.

It was early evident that the game was to be a classic. For six innings both teams failed to score. In the fourth a bit of questionable umpiring robbed the locals of a certain run. Robertson led off with a triple only to be called out for not touching second base. This decision was greeted with much ill feeling by the fans. White was disappointed by this break and was an easy out to the pitcher, Alger, who was the dagger of the day, followed with another three-base wallop only to die on third when Capt. Eldredge rolled out to first base.

Up to the sixth, the locals had made six hits without a score. In this inning we broke the scoring ice without a hit. Weber, first up, was given a walk. He advanced to second on White's out, took third on a passed ball, and scored when Alger was safe on an error by the visiting third baseman.

Lovell came up even in the seventh when they made a base on balls and a two-bagger count.

We had a chance to finish the struggle in the usual nine innings. Alger started the ninth with his second three-bagger. Eldredge, Swan, and Smiley, however, could not produce the winning punch.

Things looked very dark in the tenth. Walker connected for a double with one out. The next out sent him to third. Then the catcher, lead-off man for Lovell, sent a hit to center field that looked like extra bases. Smiley started back like a startled rabbit and made a last mighty spring into the air to bring down the ball and save the game for Bethel.

In our half of the tenth Weber again worked Hallowell for a walk with two out. He stole second and scored on Robertson's beautiful hit to short left field.

It was an interesting fact that all three runs scored in the game came from bases on balls. It has always been said that a walk was as good as hit and this contest certainly proved it.

Alger led the awaiting with two triples. Robertson was not far behind with a triple and a single. Goddard also connected for two safeties. Smiley's catch in deep center was the best thing seen in years.

A snappy double play by the local infield, Bob to You to Red, was the high light in an errorless day for the inner defense. Eldredge with 7 chances, and Goddard with 6 led in fielding.

Gill had a triple the better of the duel with Hallowell. He allowed only five hits in the ten innings. Although Hallowell struck out fourteen men he was very fortunate to have the game go into extra innings. Three triples were made off his delivery without a score. The locals were hitting hard enough but not at the right time. Jack struck out eight men and passed one. In the pinches, backed up by well-known errorless ball, he was invincible except in the seventh.

"HOLIDAY" AT LAKEWOOD

"Holiday" was hailed as one of the fine things in comedy, when produced in New York last season, and the performance of the play by the Lakewood players Monday night brought out its most scintillating values. "Philip Barry has written a play which is continually gay, and amusing, blissfully mad and stunningly sane, all at the same time, with a sort of cock-eyed wisdom he knows so well how to twist into gorgeous dialogue," wrote John Anderson in the New York Journal. And as the story was unfolded last night the reason for all this pointing with pride by the New York critics was revealed in the constant laughter of the audience.

The cast which appears in "Holiday" could not have been better. Marie Albright is the young man who wants to have a good time in life before he gets too old and therefore refuses to gather the shekels until no joy is left except in such a harvest. It is by far the best work that Albright has done this season. As his running mate Peg Entwistle, daughter of a rich father she also has not much use for money, is always brilliant and ever intelligent. Miss Entwistle has the real spark of genius. Kate Byron gives a good account of herself as the sister who first wins Johnny but fails to hold him because she does not understand his ideas of life. The balance of the cast is always in the picture and never for a moment is the play let down. "Holiday" lived up to the promise that this would be one of the treats of the Lakewood season.

For next week beginning Monday, July 14, the Lakewood Players return to the mood of drama, with "A Butterfly on the Wheel" one of the most famous plays produced during the last generation. It is made notable by the fact that Arthur Byron is to make his first appearance of the season as the English Judge.

The role of the harassed wife in "A Butterfly on the Wheel" is one which it is the desire of all good actresses to create at least once in their careers. It is the sort of meat that can only be done by a player of exceptional merit. Peg Entwistle is cast for the role of Peggy Adamson and, judged by her work thus far at Lakewood, she will give a memorable interpretation of the role.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

L. A. Edwards, Pastor
JULY 13TH

10:45 Morning worship. Subject of sermon by the pastor will be, "The Excluded Christ".

When Mary and Joseph came to Bethlehem, there was no room for them in the inn. Jesus was born in a manger, because the inn was too crowded.

The keepers of the inn would have made room had they but known.

There was no room for Jesus in the Temple of His God that was presided over by the religious hierarchy.

In John's vision he sees the church of Laodicea and standing outside is the patient Christ. Why was He thus excluded from that church?

Are we not proud of the democratic spirit of the Congregational church? Are we not glad to throw open the doors to all classes? Does this fine spirit of democracy include Christ?

We shall be delighted to see our summer visitors at Church any Sunday morning. We appreciate your presence, and hope you may receive real benefit from coming.
